John 3:16

A sunset over a body of water with the text "God did not send Him into the world to condemn the world," overlaid. The sun is low on the horizon, creating a bright glow and reflecting on the water. The sky is a mix of orange and red, and the water is dark with some reflections.

God did not send Him into the world to condemn the world,

but that the world through Him might be saved.

John 3:17

A yellow cross is centered in the image. Behind the cross is a red, jagged-edged shape that resembles a splash or a burst. In the center of the cross, where the arms meet, there is a small white dove with its wings spread, symbolizing the Holy Spirit.

God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son,
that whoever believes in Him should not perish but have eternal life.

A yellow cross is centered in the image. The background behind the cross consists of several overlapping, curved red shapes that resemble a stylized sunburst or a burst of light. At the center of the cross, where the horizontal and vertical bars meet, there is a white dove with its wings spread, appearing to be perched on the cross.
